WASHINGTON

TARIFF CONFERENCE.—HOUSE ACCEPTS RECIPROCITY.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 18.—The conference on the tariff bill had a meeting this morning and it is reported that they have made substantial progress. The most important action is the acceptance by the House conferees of the senate reciprocity amendment. It is understood that the senate increases of duties on wines, spirits and beer have been abandoned by the senate members of the conference committee. The committee now hope to be able to report by Monday next.

CRIMINAL.

DOUBLE SUICIDE.—LOVERS BLOW THEIR BRAINS OUT SIMULTANEOUSLY.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 18.—A strange double suicide occurred here this morning. Gustave G. Koch, a well known crayon artist, walked up in front of a window at 140 Canal street, loaded his head and said: "I have come empty. Are you ready?" After saying these words he drew a revolver and shot himself through the head, dying almost instantly. As he fell there came the echo of another shot from within the window. An investigation showed that a young woman, Emma Ross, an actress, aged 19, lay a corpse on her bed in the room with a bullet in her heart. It was perfectly evident that the two had prepared to die together. They had for some time been most devoted lovers, and the cause of the tragedy is supposed to have been the opposition of the girl's mother to their marriage.

FOREIGN.

FILLING THE COUNTRY WITH LINES.
LONDON, Eng., Sept. 18.—The wholesale merchants of Belfast are making every endeavor to place as much linen as possible in the U. S. before the McKinley bill goes into effect.

POLITICAL.

You Take No Risk
In buying Hood's Sarsaparilla, for it is everywhere recognized as the standard building-up medicine and blood purifier. It has won its way to the front by its own intrinsic merit, and has the largest sale of any preparation of its kind. Any honest druggist will confirm this statement. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy anything else instead. Be sure to get Hood's.

Awarded First Premium.
When in Salem at the state fair all the sights should be taken in by visitors. The wonderful variety and finish of the Salem Woolen Mill Co's goods at their new store on Commercial street is attracting crowds right along. A new lot of soft silk-finish ladies' dress flannels in all the most fashionable shades just displayed. d1w

Miss Mary E. Steiner, teacher of piano and organ. Address 244 Twelfth street. 9-16t.

SECOND EDITION.—During the fair week the JOURNAL will print two editions daily—the regular edition at 3:30 p. m. and a second edition at 5 p. m. with all news of the day and about fair week up to time of going to press.

A FINE FINISH.—N. D. Jones is the artist who finished the elegant interior at the new meat market, 35 Commercial street. Shop over Heinenbrand's restaurant. Mar 4-d.

Remember that C. S. McNally, the architect, has removed his office to the Bush-Brey block, on Commercial street. Second hallway to the right of the main store. 9-12-04.

TO-DAY'S JOURNAL LIGHTNING FLASHES.

San Francisco hop jobbers swear there shall be no further advance in prices.

Lane county hop crops are not over one-half to two-thirds full yields. Drouth and louse are the cause.

The state fair is only a moderate sized success. It should have been a howling success.

The most enterprising state fair workers were the toughs, gamblers, and high-lifts. They were here enough and to spare.

What's the matter with Salem? The newspapers are not slow. The newspapers in almost any town are up with and ahead of the procession. The East Oregonian says: "Salem has two good daily newspapers, one published in the morning and the other in the evening. Salem has also about 10,000 population to support these two good newspapers."

Among other baby capers at the fair is this: Owners of stock following the judges around and showing off fine points of their animals while they are being passed upon.

The ladies who sampled the cordials yesterday had a spirited time, and had to take several tastes before deciding. Oh! the JOURNAL is everywhere.

THE JOURNAL is not slow. It has had three regular workers on the fair grounds every day and all day, and ten newboys. It has had full accounts of the races of each day in the five o'clock edition of that day.

Is the big steel Salem bridge at Salem to be a rotten put up thing?

Puyallup pretty near went up in smoke night before last.

Tacoma has a beautiful girl thief that enters private houses and gets away with valuables beautifully.

THE JOURNAL is running like Salvo.

Binger Herrmann says: What's the use to shut out John Chinaman and reciprocate his products into this country.

Life and beauty in the JOURNAL's columns.

"The state may get a recount," say the Washington officials. Ah! won't Oregon loom up though if she can get all her people counted.

The Oregon State Prison wisely confines its state fair exhibit to its arm products. The state has no pride in what it does for the human products of that institution.

Windom says he has no intention of resigning as Sec'y of Treas., and that he is satisfied with the condition of things. But the country is not satisfied with Windom.

What Oregon needs is a recount of her state fair management. It is good but not good enough.

This paper is read. A local one evening brought one dealer twenty one applications before dinner next day.

People read and digest the JOURNAL in the evening and over night and are prepared to act upon it the next morning.

Canada may want to annex, but who wants to pluck the "blamed thing," anyway? She's a sour, tasteless plum at best, as a country. But Canada has a whole lot of nice people, some smart men and lots of pretty women.

Every other state fair has not only city fair trains, but special excursion trains from all directions. With excursion trains and excursion rates ten thousand people would have visited the Oregon State Fair from Washington. Dynamite, the two-bit management, says the JOURNAL—that is, knock new ideas into their heads with the giant powder of public opinion.

You've seen the big horses, the merry-go-round,
And all the pretty girls' faces;
But you've not seen the best of the fair
Till you've seen Lun's oilecloths, carpets and laces.
